

The 175th anniversary of St. Joseph Parish, Westphalia, Missouri, will be celebrated on Saturday, September 25, 2010. Plans are still being formulated for the celebration and will be published here when they are finalized.

In conjunction with that celebration, a cookbook is being published. Recipes have been gathered and sent to the publisher. The books are for sale at this time but delivery is not expected until early May 2010. To order a book, fill out the cookbook order form, and mail it with your payment to the address given on the form. You will be sent a receipt when payment is received and your book will be sent to you after it is received from the publisher.